

Adam Smith International Sierra Leone Young Professionals Programme

Manager (Programme Management, Operations and Business Development)

SIERRA LEONE

Adam Smith International (ASI) is seeking highly driven and capable candidates interested in developing a management career with a leading international development consultancy in Sierra Leone.

The Young Professionals Programme gives individuals an exciting opportunity to gain experience in all aspects of ASI management including:

- programme management (financial management and technical quality assurance)
- business development (recruitment and proposal development)
- operations (administration, logistics, procurement, finance, HR and event management);

The selected candidate will also benefit from training and mentoring from senior managers to aid their professional development.

You will bring the following:

- Eagerness to learn and a hard working attitude;
- Degree in Business, Management, Operations or related field;
- Relevant management work experience and drive to develop professionally;
- Results-focused approach with a proven track record of getting things done;
- Good negotiating skills, MS office skills and ability to write well.

Adam Smith International

Adam Smith International is an award-winning strategic development company that works to grow economies, make governments more efficient, and strengthen security. We work with governments, civil society and the private sector to implement effective public policy and build strong institutions in countries at all stages of development. ASI is an employee-owned trust that has a triple bottom line of financial, social and environmental accountability.

Our work in Sierra Leone

In Sierra Leone we have been operating for over 11 years and specialise in the design, management and delivery of complex programmes in a wide range of practices. We operate a suite of projects in private sector development, public financial management reform, infrastructure advisory, agriculture, renewable energy, business environment and regulatory reform, delivering lasting impact for Sierra Leoneans.

Apply

Interested candidates should submit their CV to sierraleone@adamsmithinternational.com with 'YPP Management' in the subject line. Deadline 30th of November 2018 however applications will be assessed on a rolling basis so early applications are encouraged.

This opportunity is open to Sierra Leonean nationals only.
Female candidates are especially encouraged to apply.